Through the Keyhole

By JOHN THOMAS

All aspiring journalists at some time during their adolescent scrunchings dream of the day when their own pet ideas and arguments can be expressed in a column.

Yours truly is no exception. He presented his idea for a column to the editors, and was given an okay, he broke into a grin from here to there.

This column was given such a "headings" because some of its news will come from behind closed doors—doors which, by rights, should be opened to the entire student body. In other words, one aim of this column will be to give students the "inside" facts which have no valid reason for being suppressed.

But, besides our muckraking, we will also attempt to show the humorous, or perhaps the tragic or grim side of State.

We must give a warning, however, to all who contribute legitimate information or criticism to this column. Emphatically, this is not a gossip column; it will not contain information on who was seen with whom, or that Cornelius Drip likes Cornelia Droop.

Rumors fly fast in a country during such times as these, so we have decided to contribute one for our share of the week. This rumor did not come from someone who told someone who heard it from someone else; it can be traced to one person who is at present employed on this campus.

We hesitate to give his name, not because we think the FBI might be on his trail, but because he probably would be pestered from now until then by persons who would like to know where he obtained his facts.

THE RUMOR

Colleges throughout the country will find themselves in a very bad situation as regards male students immediately after elections next month.

Of course, this seems like a pretty trite and insignificant piece of news at first glance, but to a few hundred of State's men, and there are only a few hundred, it is going to mean a great deal, since our informant has implied that the male population of our colleges will be depleted through the channels of Army and Navy college reserve plans.

We agree that in an emergency all males should be inducted for combat duty, but why should an emergency arise overnight? It is our opinion that we are in an emergency right this minute, not a month from now, whereas all our congressmen have assured mothers that we won't be having an emergency for some time.

We are the future men and women that are supposed to remold this country after the war, but think of the impossible task if our leaders won't help today.

When we instituted this column we agreed to stay on campus with our news, and we apologize for half-way straying. But frankly, we have become just a little bit riled.

Student Body Chiefs Outline Semester's Activity Program

Ushering in the second year of war time student body administration, State's new officers hopefully began this week what they pray will be a highly successful term.

Heading the student administrative staff, Kenny Young, aided by Frances Young, vice-president; Rita Balbi, secretary; and Vic Rossi, treasurer, began work immediately on the day of registration to put over student activities.

Student body card sales passed the 800 mark, making almost 80 per cent of the student enrollment members of the student body. Aided by this response, the officers have already put into effect a schedule of events planned to give the students their money's worth of campus life.

HANDBOOK TO APPEAR

The official student handbook has been compiled by Kenny Young, under the sponsorship of Alpha Phi Gamma and the Music Federation. It will be issued to freshman students and club presidents along with newly made copies of the student body constitution.

The social calendar for the year already has been tentatively set up. First rally of the semester was held last Friday, followed by State's opening football game the next day. Already placed on the calendar are the Junior Prom, set for Big Game night; the Chickens' Ball, to be given on November 24; and the Freshman Reception, which will take place October 21.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Dates of other dances, rallies, and social events will be announced in the Golden Gate and over the student body public address system soon. Meanwhile, athletic events are planned for every weekend until the football and soccer schedules are completed.

Petitions for class offices have to be turned into the student body office, Room 119, by 4 o'clock today. Class elections take place on Tuesday, October 13.

Sigma Alpha Ets Present Speakers To Orient Frosh

In an effort to give incoming Freshmen the opportunity to learn about student activities from student leaders, the Orientation classes on Tuesday, October 13, will hear talks from representatives of all the extra-curricular groups on the campus.

Under the guidance of Sigma Alpha Eta, campus fraternity which is gathering together the speakers, the affair will feature representatives from men's and women's athletics, the Music Federation, the Art Federation, the dramatics society, debate group, radio classes, journalism organizations, student government and fraternity councils.

The co-operation of Deans Mary A. Ward and Walter J. Homan in allowing speeches to be made during class time is appreciated, and they are heartily in favor of this plan to show new students the diversified opportunities offered to them in all extra-curricular activities.

Paul Scholten, chairman of the program, will introduce the speakers. Scholten is himself prominent in publications and other societies on the campus. In conjunction with the speakers the candidates for Freshman offices will also be introduced.

State Student Leader On Radio Program

Meeting with college representatives from California, Stanford and St. Mary's, Kenny Young, student body president, participated on the College Forum of the Air at 4 p.m. last Sunday over Station KFRC.

Message to New Students From President Roberts

To the New Students at State College:

You have chosen State for your college home. Welcome to its classrooms, the laboratories, the library, the playgrounds, and the gymnasium. Here you will find a trained and competent faculty, dedicated by the State of California to your needs and your interests. They will give you of their scholarship and experience. Make the most of your contacts with them.

Here you will find an interesting group of students, more than 1200 of you. This is your rarest opportunity to make new friends and new loyalties. We wish for you deep and enduring friendships that begin here and that will enrich your lives through all your future years.

You are coming into your college training as your country draws together its every resource for the supreme war effort. You will find the college geared into that war effort in scores of ways. You will train your minds and bodies for the immediate needs of your country, and that is well.

Peace will come, men and women will surge back from war-time service and employment, seeking their old jobs and new positions. As has always happened, the men and women with college degrees and with professional and technical training will have first pick. When we urge you to prepare, we mean first that you must prepare for any war service for which you are needed and for any peace service for which you are fitted.

Stay in college. Do your work well. Make friends and profit by your years here.

ALEXANDER C. ROBERTS.

Dean of Men Wants Service Groups to Help

With the first home game, that with San Francisco Junior College, only two weeks off, the Athletic Council finds itself in a peculiar position, that of having a stadium, but one with no place provided to seat the customers.

Crux of the matter is the labor shortage. Some months ago, Dean Cox made the statement that, "We will play on our own field if I have to plant the grass myself." Upshot of the affair came when the Dean went out and actually had to plant the grass.

Now a similar condition has arisen in connection with the bleachers. The wood is on hand (hailed by Dean Cox) from old Roberts Field. Now a crew is needed to erect the seats. Volunteers who have as little as two hours to spare are begged to contact Dean Cox. Here is a chance for some service organization to help out. Don't make the Dean do THIS job alone. Lend a hand!

According to latest statistics, some twenty thousand teaching vacancies now exist in California!

Scoutmaster School Convenes Monday For Three Weeks

San Francisco State College will play host to the Baden Powell school for scoutmasters, starting Monday and continuing for three weeks.

The Baden Powell school is an annual school held in San Francisco to teach the scoutmasters new methods and new ideas and also to acquaint prospective scoutmasters with the aims of scouting.

There will be seven sessions of the school on October 12, 14, 16, 20, 22, 24, and 25th. Each session will be from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Mr. Dan Farmer, State's representative to the school, said that he hoped that quite a few of the men students on the campus would attend the school as the Boy Scouts are desperately in need of men to lead them.

Mr. Farmer said about the school: "This is an excellent opportunity for men who are training to be teachers to get in and get some practical experience in dealing with boys. This training will be invaluable to them in their future teaching years."

Air Raid Drill On Monday

A practice air raid drill will be held on Monday, October 12, at 1:50 p.m., according to Dr. Theodore Treutlein, head of the Civilian Defense Committee.

Air raid instructions posted throughout the college area will govern the drill with the following exceptions:

Notice to all persons who will be in the Library, Cafeteria and Book Store on October 12, at 1:50 p.m.

Library—Reserve book room and main reading room. Exit to Hermann Street by way of College Hall corridor. Walk to garage shelter at 78 Buchanan Street (opposite the Mint).

Cafeteria—Use back exit to lower passage. Proceed up wooden steps to Hermann Street. Cross street to garage shelter, 55 Hermann Street (Arthur Watkins Apartments).

Book Store—Exit to Hermann Street and use garage shelter at 55 Hermann (Arthur Watkins Apartments).

Child Literature Test Scheduled For November 5

Students planning to take the examination in Children's Literature, to be given on November 5, may procure reading lists at the Co-op to assist them in preparing for the examination, it was announced today by Prof. Hermine Van Gelder, chairman of the examination committee.

The examination consists of one hundred objective questions based on the following groups of children's books: Folklore (including Mother Goose rhymes, fairy tales, myths and legends); Poetry of the 19th and 20th century; Standard and Classic Fiction of the 19th and 20th century, including favorites for primary grade children.

Students who wish to enroll for the course English 40 are not required to take the test. The course is recommended for all candidates for primary and elementary credentials, and is not offered only for those failing the test.

Several classes in civilian defense are conducted at State.

Many Part-Time Jobs Are Open

Any young woman interested in part-time work should immediately secure information from the office of the Dean of Women relative to the following openings:

Department Stores—Sales and stock girls are in demand by several of the leading department stores for work on Saturday. Experience is not necessary.

Clerical Work—There is an opportunity for half-day employment, five days a week from 9-12 a.m. or 1-4 p.m. in a life insurance company. Compensation, $40-$50 per month or more if the applicant can type. A hot lunch is included.

Library Work—If you are a senior or at least a high junior and a relative of a war veteran, you may apply for a position as hostess in the library in the War Memorial Building in Civic Center. The hours are from 7-11 p.m., five days a week. Compensation is $35 per month. A letter of introduction is necessary.

Nurse's Aide—A San Francisco hospital could use a young lady as a nurse's aide from 8-10 p.m., every evening except Sunday. Salary is $39.50 per month with one meal and the laundering of uniforms.

Recreation Work—Especially valuable for those who plan to teach. Hours, 3-6 p.m., Monday through Friday and 10-6 Saturdays. Applicants must be at least 19 years of age, have a good knowledge of sports, and possess ability to direct groups of children on public playgrounds. San Francisco residence for at least one year is required. Letters of introduction will be given to all applicants. Students who received letters for summer work and were not placed should again apply to the Recreation Department, as there are vacancies. Compensation, 75 cents per hour.

Library Work—Occasionally there are vacancies for part-time work in the public library. Students must be at least sophomores, possess a personality for meeting the public, and have lived in San Francisco for one year. A note of introduction will be given to each applicant.

Student Assistants—Many opportunities are available for working in a home for room and board and compensation. In many cases the situation is particularly attractive.

All women interested in securing any type of part-time work this semester are urged to register immediately in the office of the Dean of Women.

Campaigns End With Tuesday Elections For Class Officers

Climaxing a hectic week of petitioning and campaigning, class elections will be held next Tuesday to determine the leaders of the various classes for the coming year.

Voting will be conducted in the student body offices from 10 till 4 under the direction of Sigma Alpha Eta, Men's Service organization, who volunteered their services and was accepted.

Class Elections Oct. 13; File Petitions Today

The election of all class officers will take place in the student body office on Tuesday next, October 13, according to official announcement. All holders of student body cards may cast their ballots at any time between ten and four on Tuesday.

Persons wishing to run for office who have not filed petitions as yet have until four this afternoon to do so. Blanks may be secured at the student body office or from the office of Dave Schutz, director of student affairs, next door.

Alpha Phi Gammas Plan First War-time Chickens' Ball

Many years ago, an earthquake and fire demolished San Francisco, taking with it this college.

But it did not tear down the memory of the famous Chickens' Ball. This variety show, lasting three days and nights, featured programs put on by all the hotels and restaurants in the city.

A few years ago, the show was revived on the campus by Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity. It, however, lasted but one night and featured acts put on by each campus organization.

This year, on November 24, at the War Memorial Opera House, Alpha Phi Gamma will present the fifth annual Chickens' Ball.

For those who saw the show last year, no explanation is needed. But to those who were not fortunate enough to see last year's huge success, a little information is in order:

In charge of producing the show are Leighton Edelman and Stuart Bennett, who have set October 16 as the date when an outline of each act from competing organizations must be in their hands. Auditions will be held on Thursday, October 29, 7:30 p.m., in Fredrick Burk auditorium.

Besides the organizations, individual students with something to offer may also try for a part in the show.

'Rock' Opens Doors; Admits Lonely Men; Officers Selected

With twenty-two members now occupying its spacious rooms, The "Rock" has again opened its doors and still has places for three more men.

The "Rock," State's only co-operative dormitory, is located at Mariposa and Utah streets, and it houses Staters at a minimum cost. Recent elections placed the following men at the helm for "Rock" social events during the term.

The officers are: Jack Merwin, secretary; and Caesar Orsini, treasurer.

Petitions for Graduation Due in Office Today

All candidates for degrees and credentials who wish to graduate this semester must file their petitions today with the Registrar, Miss Florence Vance.

Most important of the class elections will be that of officers for the senior class. Their duty will be to lead the graduating class of '43 through its final college year, culminating in Senior Week and Graduation. The lists of candidates for all the class offices is necessarily incomplete since petitions were not due until long after the Gater had gone to press.

For the presidency of the class, seniors Paul Scholten, Jack Gilkey and Jack Freeman are battling for the top position. A tri-way race has developed between Pat Lundberg, Jean Evans and Dorothy Fitzpatrick for the vice-president's post. At present no one has filed a petition for secretary, while Manuel Morena and Barbara Jensen are the sole candidates for treasurer and A. W. S., respectively.

BY-SEX BATTLE

A battle between the sexes has developed in the Junior class between Jack Flemmer and Elizabeth Jensen for the presidency. Pat Thomas, Margie De Andreis and Mary Gresham have all declared their candidacy for vice-president. Jackie Bloch is vying with Frances Neece for secretary, while Leighton Edelman lonesomely campaigns for treasurer. Jean Stewart is running for A. W. S.

CANDIDATES SOLO

In the race for sophomore office, most of the runners seem at present to be running without opposition, but by Tuesday additional candidates will no doubt sign up. Only in the presidential chair has any opposition developed, with Pierre Salinger, Art Blum and Ed Robinson, all campaigning.

In the other brackets, Beverly Forney runs for vice-president, while Marilyn Adams, John Mortaratti and Betty Jane Rank are unopposed for secretary, treasurer and A. W. S., respectively.

FROSH SWAMP BALLOT

In freshman camp, enthusiasm and candidates are two things not lacking. And it is reliably reported that six of the newcomers have petitions for president, but at present only three, Allan Godfrey, Dick Zink and Rod Crump, have openly thrown their hats in the ring.

A similar bumper crop of vice-presidential candidate is also expected, but only Lorraine LaCava and Mary Alice Scott have put any publicity forth at deadline time. Margaret Shepard has been garnering signatures for secretary, while another trio, George O'May, Kaj Blumquist and Warren Fineman, is fighting to control the freshman finances.

Unique feature of the freshman campaign is the opportunity given the frosh to address their constituents in the Orientation classes on the day of the election. All candidates for freshman office should contact Paul Scholten, who is conducting the lower class elections, in the Gater office today, Friday, before 4 o'clock.

NYA Occupations Open to Few Students

Students interested in NYA work should see Dean Ward or Dean Cox immediately. There is money available for a limited number of students who without this help could not continue college.

No student is to assume that he will be on NYA until he has been properly assigned and the oath of allegiance taken. Work assignments begin October 8.

All Class Elections Tuesday, October 13

We're Still Here

San Francisco State College has kept open its doors for the duration. Up to the time preceding registration, no one had any high hopes for a good sized sign-up. However, after the first week of college, the Administration let go a sigh of relief as over 1100 students filed back for at least another semester of instruction.

Even the male population, taking advantage of the V-1, V-5, V-7 and the Enlisted Reserve Corps, has held up rather well in these shaky times when that cool wind, commonly known as the draft, invades the campus and takes many a male from the ranks of college students.

The members of the Gater staff are expecting great things from the student body this semester. They all agree that with the opening of the new stadium out by Lake Merced, plus all the other attractions of the fall semester, this term's activities will be magnified because of the watchful eyes of the Bay Area's draft boards.

Therefore, we of the Gater welcome you all back to the institution that was going to suffer a terrific slice in enrollment.

No Cokes After Two

From the vicinity of the cafeteria, there seems to be a storm brewing. Students once accustomed to spending their late waking hours loafing in the Co-op are now forced to find some other place to congregate.

Mrs. Julia Nattinger, manager of the cafeteria, has probably the hardest job in all the school in trying to run the soda and sandwich dispensary on a paying basis. Her efforts to find adequate help have not proven successful, thus forcing her to close the Co-op earlier than usual every day. She then has time to clean up the wreckage and count the day's receipts.

Unless enough help can be provided, we'll have to grin and bear it.

Give and Receive

As usual, there is a cry from the student body office concerning the sales of student body cards. What good does it do a person to come to college and not engage in the benefits derived from membership in the student association?

Although some people will argue that a card will not do them any good for the simple reason that they are holding down jobs, we can come back with enough reasons as to why they should belong.

Membership includes the health service with one doctor and dentist on the campus every day, free admission to athletic events, a copy of the weekly college paper, the Golden Gater, and many other benefits too numerous to mention.

If you don't have a card or know someone who hasn't, join the Associated Students of San Francisco State College. It means something to belong. Get busy right now and urge your friend to join.

Safety Drills Needed

Before much more time passes, we would like to see the re-establishment of the safety procedure which was carried on last semester after the declaration of war with the Axis powers.

We believe that the sooner the students undergo practice drills and lectures on combating incendiary bombs the better it will be. Since last semester a new method of fighting fire bombs has been adopted. It is a well known fact that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Breaking a tradition of 138 years, the University of Vermont no longer requires Greek and Latin for its A. B. degree. The change is only one facet in a movement that is liberalizing arts and sciences curricula in this century and a half old New England institution. ACP

Foreign News & Views

A battleship was coming into San Francisco one foggy night. On the bridge the Captain turned to a junior officer. "Son, I know every shoal and bar in the three miles of this channel by heart."

Suddenly there was a terrific shock, and the huge ship came to a stop. "What did I tell you," cried the Captain, "there's one of 'em now."

Teacher—"Willie, conjugate the verb to drink."
Willie—"Drink, drink, drink, drink—fried to the gills."

Mayor of Alameda: "How do you like our little town?"
Visitor: "It's the first cemetery that I've ever seen with lights in it."

"That's me, baby."

Actor: Myself.
Judge: Don't you think that is a bit egotistical?

Actor: Perhaps, your Honor, but you must remember that I'm under oath.

Righteous Jazz

By HAL KELLER

URGED by a few enthusiasts, this column for Jazz lovers will continue until forced off the payroll by the misguided noise clientel. We advocate for your listening pleasure the only real American music as set forth by the New Orleans Rhythm Kings, namely, Jazz. The music of King Oliver, Freddie Keppard, Bix Biederbecke, and others with whom we mention Lu Watters, figures foremost.

This article is devoted to a member of that group who had long been forgotten until dug up by a small body of San Franciscans in June of this year. The group consisting of Bill Coburn, Hal McIntyre, and Ted Lenz made the trip into the deep South with the primary purpose of finding the great Bunk Johnson. The results were little short of sensational for with the use of a home-made recording apparatus six interpretations were waxed and are now available on "Jazz Man Records." These recordings include: "Moose March," "Weary Blues," "Bunk's Blues," "Down the River," "Storyville Blues" and the old standby, "Pomama." Bunk's trumpet and Robinson's trombone are something unequaled in the past decade.

The work done to secure these records shows the determination to promote Jazz in the Bay Region. This, the Sunday morning Jive Program, and the attempt to actuate the Watters Band by adding a Mr. Benny Strickler, cornetist of the original Bob Crosby Dixie Land Band are intensifying the interest in righteous music.

Play Parade

"WATCH ON THE RHINE," now at the Curran, is the latest play by America's most distinguished woman dramatist, Lillian Hellman. This play does not pack the wallop we have come to expect from Miss Hellman. In these days an anti-Nazi propaganda play is likely to be overrated because of its theme. The play is extremely wordy, the flow of words at times completely obscuring the meaning.

The first act is dominated by Lucille Watson's great performance as the crochety American grandmother, set on having her ways and unable to comprehend the changes that have been going on in the world. Her daughter (Mady Christians) returns home from Europe, bringing with her the German engineer husband (Paul Lukas) and their three children. Lukas is an Anti-Nazi agent carrying with him funds for the underground movement. His secret is discovered by one of the houseguests, Rumanian Count Teck de Brancouvis, who threatens to reveal him to the Nazi Embassy un-

State Men in the Service

By ADELE MENJOU

WATCHING for the downbeat in the U. S. Army band these days are Phil Laspina, Tom Chestnut, Jimmy Blass and Joe Pucci, all stationed at the San Francisco Presidio. Nice going, boys.

Carrying on the teaching tradition for State is Sherman Grant, now an instructor at the Link trainer school of the Army air corps in Illinois.

Bill—oops! beg your pardon—Milton Brady is a member of the Navy air corps. He's looping the loop and barrel rolling over Corpus Christi, Texas.

Former State football star, Fred Hinze, is stationed at Luke Field, Arizona. Wonder if he's teaching them how to pack the pigskin around?

Just to let the fellows know that they aren't the only ones to do or die for Uncle Sam, we point with pride to Shelia O'Leary, Ann Dunn and Gertrude Brazil, all lieutenants in the Army nurses corps, while Jeannette Guisot is a Navy nurse.

Wonder how Alan Kreuzberger is getting along without his pal, Roger Bousquet. Alan is in the air corps and Roger, when last heard from, was stationed at the Navy medical training school in San Diego.

Don MacDonald, a former State student, and ex-instructor in the Canadian Royal Air Force, has joined the American forces.

Passing the pills and tying up the broken parts is Gene Naumoff, now a member of the Navy medical corps.

The Men's P. E. department may throw back its shoulders and puff up its chest over Nicholas Munson, who graduated from the military school at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He received a position as physical education instructor on the faculty there.

Ernest Loustadot will soon have a pair of silver wings, earned from the Navy air corps, to display on his uniform.

On land, on sea and in the air, Frank Granucci will be there as a second lieutenant in the Marine corp.

The man who doesn't worry about motor trouble because he hasn't any is Jack Lynch, a glider pilot in the U. S. Army.

Bill Wendt and Dick Webster have received their wings. Both former members of Phi Epsilon Mu, they float through the air with the greatest of ease over Luke Field.

Bert Alward, co-director of the Chickens' Ball last year, is now taking directions as a private in the U. S. Army.

One past president of State's student body, Morley Carruthers, is a private in the U. S. Army, and Izzie Pivnick, a candidate for that office last spring, is serving in the Army, stationed at Monterey.

Ernie Miguel delivers the goods. He won his corporal stripes in the Fourth Bomber Ferry Command of the Air corps.

"Bombs away" is the signal for David Snow, lieutenant bombardier in the Army air corps, to hit a Jap all over the map. Hit a few for us, Dave.

(Any information concerning former State students in the service will be appreciated by this writer. Contact P. O. Box 1393.)

RAPHAEL'S...

COMMENTARY

...ON WAR

DURING

the last three months World War II has been distinguished mostly for what it has failed to become. In June those who were inclined to prophecy were quite agreed that the middle of 1942 would see a supreme Axis effort at conquest in which the horrors of Armageddon would be let loose on a scale that would shake the world. In fact we were admonished to prepare ourselves for a veritable Deluge of Fire.

In July the Teutonic war machine resumed its ponderous, bloody march eastward. The Don was reached, Rostov fell, the Caucasus, doorway to the Orient, was interrupted. Once more, towns with unpronounceable names became the vessels of destiny: Tsimlyansk, Kletskaya, Voronezh... Stalin-grad.

At Stalingrad the Nazis ran up against that combination of spirit and flesh that will eventually entomb them. The morning and the afternoon and the night were made hideous by the sounds and sights of siege. Fifteen hundred dive bombers took their turns at Stalingrad and five thousand tanks tried to rush its streets.

Up until this writing the Red Army and the Stalingrad opelchenie, or People's Militia, has held Hitlerism at bay. How much longer? How much more of this mass crucifixion can the heroic Russian people stand?

In the Orient the United Nations

suffered a setback that may be the wellspring of a devastating reverse. The Cripps negotiations with India were deadlocked. The traditional prejudices, hatreds and distrusts of both sides, coupled with the reduction of Mr. Cripps' authority by telephone from London, combined to destroy all but the most optimistic hopes that India will be anything but a second Burma when Imperial headquarters in Tokyo decides upon invasion of the Ganges and Indus valleys. Needless to add darkness to disaster by describing what would happen if ever Japan and Germany met in India!

With the Indian situation patently in a grave condition, however, Japan did not exploit her advantage. Neither did she invade Siberia, where she has another excellent military opportunity. Her sceptered, if somewhat blackened, realm was beset in the South Pacific for the first time when American Marines landed on the Solomons.

Evidently the Japanese have diverted large military resources to reconquest of the Solomons rather than endure a stinging loss of prestige and the possibility that Siberia and India may prove more difficult than can at present be foreseen.

It will, no doubt, be noted that this article has been somewhat optimistic in tone. This optimism must be heavily guarded lest it break forth and create havoc. Although the Fascist World has not set upon ours with the tremendous fury that was earlier expected, it has not lost all chance of doing so later.

We must ever remind ourselves that the United Nations are still at a heavy disadvantage. We still lack a unified and integrated command over all our resources, spiritual and political, military and economic.

Blum's Bull Session

WELL, gang, they said it couldn't be done. No more "business as usual" at ye old college campus; no more dances, no more rallies, no more—well, nothing but books, books, books!

Well, sir, they (the campus di-hards) were right—but to a degree only. No, we're not having "business as usual," but we most certainly are going to cram all the activities and pleasures we possibly can into this term without seriously detracting from the school's war effort—and this is straight from the feedback!

But enough of this sermonizing—let's have some—

BUCHANAN BANTER...

Summertime saw the "B" Boys of the Soph class, Dave Braga and Jay Bloodgood, lending Henry J. Kaiser a helping hand at Richmond No. 2—and Vince McGrath and Lee Gomes building biceps up in the northwoods as lumberjacks—while Mary Jane Young spent a "financially" interesting summer slaving at the Federal Reserve Bank.

Barbara Krase, State's gift to the tennis world, spent the good ole summertime participating in various tournaments in Oregon and Washington, winning the Pacific Northwest Championship from the cream of the coast crop of feminine tennis stars—and Frannie Young passed the "hot spell" working for Bechtol's—no, not as a welder, but merely as an office gal—at the same time, Marge Weber and Betty Dunn worked for the Navy Clerical department in S. F., while Myra Mae Chase was way up in the hills of Utah working for a defense plant as a—clerk.

HAIGHT HIGHLIGHTS...

During the War of Independence a dynamic little guy by name of John Dickinson expostulated to one and all that "United We Stand, Divided We Fall!" And it seems that a large group of Staters have decided to take his advice literally—even if they are some 160 years late, cause boy, oh, boy, have they been "uniting"—to name a few: Janet Barney a wearin' the ring of ex-Stater, Naval Cadet Bill Brady—engaging Frannie Young engaged to Jerry Brady (all these Bradys!)

And Doris Coulter, now Mrs. Doris Mample—while Alpha O's Jessie Tracy, now Mrs. Jessie Gittens, the mother of a bouncing baby tax exemption—and on the list goes—and where it'll stop no one knows!

STATE-MENTS...

You've gotta hand it to Caesar Orsini, State's perennial "jolly good fellow,"—what with the draft board hot on his heels, old Caesar is still energetically pouring his all into State's doings whether big or small—and this to all men at State (go on, laugh)—keep your eyes in top 20-20 condition, not only for good ole V-1 but for those two dazzling "yellow-haired" beauties just in from J. C. Misses Betty Walker and Mary Alice Scott.

And speaking of newcomers, the Frosh class has added another starter to State's first string of top notch songbirds in the person of petite Lorraine "Bonny B." La Cava of Washington Hi—while, at the same time, two more Washingtonians, Rod Crump and Dick Zink, will be vying for the post of Prexy of the Freshman class for the coming year—and this looms as a battle royal!—Incidentally Joan Kerrigan of the Bay Area Kerrigans, has decided to perpetuate the Kerrigan name at State—and so—meet sister Phyllis, a Freshman—but still a Kerrigan!

WEEKLY SUCCESS STORY...

State's leading lady of the drama, Miss Dorothea Eskesen, has a sister—which isn't news in itself—but what is news is the fact that her sister, Miss Jacqueline Eskesen, has an informal contract to start picture making for Warner Bros. come next summer. This feather in the Eskesen cap is due to the fact that little "Jackie" made a very successful screen test down "souse" this past summer—and so, another Eskesen, younger, but every bit as charming as her older sister, will soon be trodding the boards of the Little Theater, preparatory to bigger things which are yet to come.

Out of approximately 1135 registered Staters this term, some 500 are absolutely brand new students to the school on Buchanan heights.

AT THE UNIVERSITY SHOP

"Things are looking up for ole Joe Bushnock!"

Yes sir, Joe's right in there pitching... and putting 'em over the home plate. The man's smooth... not only in his line, but in his clothes as well. The femmes like a sharp-looker and he knows it. Just glom that gabardine suit. It's a double-breasted drape with hand picked edges... long enough to make his shoulders broaden like a grin. Priced easy as stealing second!

Terry's Tangents

DEFEAT!!! No word is held lower in contempt! If it's true that everyone loves a winner, likewise veracious is its antithesis, that everyone despises a loser, including the loser. And so it would seem that the humiliating, ignominious 25-6 rout suffered by the Laguna Lizards should be accounted for.

A BARNYARD EPIC

Heretofore, State's losses have been attributed to any number of philosophical, sociological, technological and even biological reasons. Undoubtedly you've heard them all: Inexperience, loss of veterans, prejudice, lack of scholarships, the war, the faculty, etc., etc., etc. Oh, it was a magnificent list!

And, of course, with the sad swineskin squads with which the Haight Hill has been burdened of late, many, varied, amazingly original and thrice told was each one of those tales. Strangely enough, there was one of those—ogicals that no one had yet had the brazen effrontery to mention: 'bumalological'. Indeed, there was just that remote possibility that State had a club made up of a bunch of beautifully built bums.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

However, after the 25-6 air raid was over at McClellan Field, what does the Purple and Gold's new coach, Raymond Kauffman, have to say?

"Excuses?" pondered Mr. Kauffman, "no, we have no excuses to offer. We don't have to, because we played a good game! We made ten first downs to their nine, completed six out of fourteen passes and made 175 yards from scrimmage, as against their 200.

"Outstanding men? Well, for all around performance, Big Bob Johnson played 'em dizzy, getting off seemingly impossible kicks, and cutting 'em in half with his tackles. Ends, Gilkey and Lorbeer, were especially effective in the line, with guards Alex Vladimiroff and Aime Hourcade slicing through there again and again.

"Mario Vasquez played the best defensive game in the backfield, not being suckered once. This is all the more remarkable because of the fact that the boy has never before played the game. Steinbach was the football player's player last Saturday, hammering away at the opposition's barrier without letup all day.

VASQUEZ ANKLES TO POINTLAND

"Little Louis Vasquez's run? Well, that eighty-seven yard return by Louis off Steinbach's lateral will become legendary here at State. Yes, I think we'll probably take Chico into camp."

So said Coach Raymond Kauffman. No corny, mourning excuses, and nothing but praise for the boys. Against such spirit it is evident opponents are due for a rough trip.

SHORT SPORT SHOTS:

After last Saturday's catastrophe, Louis Vasquez became quite chummy with Ralph Emmerson, right guard for the Macs, who stopped the Buchanan backs cold. During the course of their conversation Mr. Emmerson, in a nonchalant, rather matter-of-fact way, informed Louis that he (Mr. Emmerson) had played with the Philadelphia Eagles in '41 and the Washington Huskies in '40. To which Louis replied, "Gosh, I guess we shoulda played the other guard."

"You mean Ed Merlin?" said Mr. Emmerson, raising his eyebrows. "I dunno," he continued; "Ed's purty good. He played for the Eastern Army All-Stars, the Philly Eagles, and yeah—he made All-American for Vanderbilt in '37.

THAT'S ENOUGH FOR ME!

And there's Lieutenant Louis De'Goes," continued Mr. Emmerson, warming up to the subject. "He was All-Rocky Mountain Conference in '40. Yeah, and Al Schmidt usta play full for Detroit U. And, and—say, where's that kid I was talking to?" queried Mr. Emmerson, looking around for Little Louis, who was just nicking the first bus for home, followed by Rock Doc Cramer and Phil Call.

W.A.A. SPORTS

By PAT JONES

The W. A. A. started the year's activities off with a bang Monday, with the opening of hockey season. Fifteen girls turned out for this sport, under the direction of Miss Eugenia Gire, and it is hoped that more girls will come out for next Monday's game.

Volleyball, directed by Mrs. Florence Stephenson, will start next week and will be followed in the near future by the individual sports of badminton, tennis, modern dancing and swimming. Special emphasis is placed on swimming this year because of its value in time of war, mainly in the line of rescue work. Miss Doris Holtz has charge of this class.

A tentative date of November 14 has been set for San Francisco State College's annual high school playday, to be held for team representatives of the Bay Area high schools.

Newly elected W. A. A. officers are: Lucille Paulson, president; Edith Mareck, vice-president; Mary Engler, secretary; Charlotte Plumb, treasurer; and Thursa Scott, commissioner of social affairs.

President Paulson stated that the W. A. A. and team sports are open not only for P. E. majors and minors, but to every woman member of S. F. State. "You do not have to be skilled; that comes with practice. Come out just for the fun of it and for the sake of physical fitness, which is so valuable now," says Miss Paulson.

Tough On the Help

The despondent old gentleman emerged from his club and climbed stiffly into his luxurious limousine. "Where to, sir?" asked the chauffeur, respectfully.

"Drive off a cliff, James," replied the old gentleman. "I'm committing suicide."

Mac's Fliers Bomb Golden Tide in Surprise 'Air Raid'; Ankle Bangers Face Heavy Season With Light Squad

Coach Jerry Kenny Again Boasts Return of Two All-Conference Men

By KENNY YOUNG

Baying the now familiar cry, "We need men," Head Soccer Coach Jerry Kenney, ably echoed by Assistant Jonathon Finn, has officially opened the hunting season on male shinkickers. Any 4-F refugee who can wear shoes, or boot without them, is wanted on Upper Field at 4 p. m. any afternoon to engage in soccer practice with the few lonely individuals now out.

POTENTIAL CHAMPS

Always near the top of the league, State's shinkicking aggregation again looms as a potential championship squad—if more talent is secured. Radically depleted by the lack of men on the campus, the soccer squad has suffered still a further blow with the decision of Coach Kenney to bar any gridders from participation because of their inability to practice with the team.

This move automatically bans such stellar performers as Werner Steinbach, outstanding halfback; Gridley Dorr, last season's brilliant goalie; and Al Vladimiroff, potential first-string center-forward.

Now practicing are seven veterans of last year's second-place organization, two of them all-conference selections. Manny Morena, halfback, and John Peterson, outside right, lead the host of returning veterans, among whom are John Finn, fullback; Howie Hall, fullback; Al Gloria, halfback; Curt Buttles, forward; and Kenny Young, outside left.

SEVEN NOT ENOUGH

Seven men, however, are not enough to make up an eleven man soccer team, Coach Kenney points out. And although he has several newcomers to add to the squad, he will need still more to perfect his dream team.

Needed additions to the turf trampers' organization are Vince McGrath, a forward from Mission; Bill Callas, frosh basketball star trying to make good with his feet; Jack Freeman, ex-grizzer with fullback ambitions; Roy Lohan, a newcomer trying out for forward; and Warren Nattress, who may develop into a capable halfback.

TOUGH GOING AHEAD

Lined up for the team is a tough conference schedule, beginning to-

L. Vasquez Runs 87 Yards to Score On Steinbach's Kickoff Reverse

By GRIDLEY DORR

Playing under the broiling sun of the Sacramento valley, State's fighting Gaters went down to defeat at the hands of the McClellan Field Fliers, 25-6, last Saturday. The score does not indicate the true course of the game, and the outweighed Gaters looked good in their first game.

INTERCEPTION STOPS MARCH

State picked up three first downs before an intercepted pass stopped the march. A quick kick put the Gaters in the hole, from which they never recovered. Late in the first quarter the Fliers began to roll. Led by Patterson, former Fresno State ace, and Fitzpatrick, of Kansas, the "Macs" rolled to a score. Patterson carried it over. Bob Johnson, Gater halfback, blocked the conversion attempt.

Late in the second quarter the Fliers recovered a Gater fumble and a 40-yard pass from Patterson to Fisher ran up the count to 12-0. Johnson again blocked the conversion attempt. The Gaters fumbled immediately after the kickoff and six plays later Patterson boomed over for another touchdown. The conversion attempt was wide.

J. VASQUEZ SCORES

The climax play of the afternoon came on the ensuing kickoff. Werner Steinbach took the kickoff on the five, raced to the sidelines and handed the ball to Louis Vasquez on a reverse. Vasquez circled back and up the other sidelines to race unmolested to a touchdown. The entire play covered 85 yards, with Vasquez going the last 80 yards.

STATE OUTWEIGHED

Although the light Gater line was up against a line averaging 220 pounds, and featuring Ed Merlin, of the Army all-stars, and Ralph Emmerson, University of Washington star guard, they played hard, clean football. The backfield headed by Werner Steinbach, also played exceptional football.

Fumbleitis and an inadequate pass defense hampered the Gaters, but it was caused by first game inexperience.

The Veteran's auditorium will again be the scene of State's annual Chickens' Ball.

"KICKING" CURT BUTTLES Many of State's chances lie with Curt, who plays forward.

Football Schedule Includes Friday Afternoon Games

San Francisco State College has revised its football schedule to play Friday afternoon games.

These changes include San Francisco Junior College on October 23 and Santa Rosa Junior College on October 30. The games will probably start at 3:30.

Santa Rosa Junior College replaces Humboldt State, which has abandoned football.

The schedule for Fall '42 is: October 3—S. F. State at McClellan Field (Sacramento).

October 10—S. F. State at Chico State.

October 17—S. F. State at Salinas Junior College.

October 24—S. F. J. C. at S. F. State.

October 31—Santa Rosa J. C. at S. F. State.

November 7—California Poly at S. F. State.

November 14—Mather Field at Sacramento.

State to the point where this plea is made to all who don't wear skirts: Any man big enough to wear a football uniform is eligible to play Junior Varsity football. We will endeavor to have at least one game a week. Get suits between 12:00 and 1:00 this Friday, October 9, and Monday, October 12.

Team Travels North For Chico Gridfest

San Francisco State's once-defeated eleven travels to Chico to play the Chico State Wildcats tomorrow afternoon.

Little is known of the opposition except that they were soundly trounced by the College of the Pacific, 27-6, on the same afternoon that the Gaters were overwhelmed by McClellan Field.

The Gater squad would like to retain the Dan Farmer trophy which they won last season by defeating Chico, 12-7.

Every player on the "Kauffman Killers" team is praying for rain, having a distinct remembrance of playing once under the Sacramento Valley sun at Chico.

With the exception of a few minor injuries, the squad came out of the last game in fine shape and is really pointing for this game. Werner Steinbach and Bob Johnson, who bore the brunt of the attacks in the McClellan Field game, will again carry the Gater hopes.

Intramural Sports Start Monday; Grid Games Set

Intramural football, under the direction of Hal Harden this fall, is slated to begin Monday, October 12, with games scheduled for the upper field.

Harden announces that a preliminary game will be held next week to test the feasibility of a new set of rules, which if proved worth while will be put into use this season.

All classes, organizations, clubs or groups who would like to participate in the schedule are advised to get their entries into Harden, George Lorbeer, or Curt Buttles before next Friday has expired. Teams will consist of eight players, but the games will begin if a minimum of six gridders show up.

Of the 500 odd new students, some 435 are freshmen!

Block 'S' Society Holds Election for Fall '42

Last Tuesday in Anderson Hall, the first Block "S" Society meeting for Fall '42 was brought to order by last year's secretary, George Lorbeer. The meeting was held primarily for the election of officers.

Undoubtedly it was one of the most boisterous, hard fought, evenly matched campaigns in the history of State's Block "S". When the blood, sweat and tears had cleared away, the same George Lorbeer, by unanimous choice, found himself in the president's chair.

In the hottest battle since Dunkirk, Rabbit H. Keller, after three successive runoffs, beat out Neil Harriman for vice president. Harriman, undaunted, however, came back to grab the secretarial spot going away.

After two runoffs, featuring Murray, Hayden and Rush in the lineup, everybody's friend, Moneybags Murray, was finally selected for treasurer. This election culminated the first meeting of Fall '42.

IN THE AIR FORCE they say—

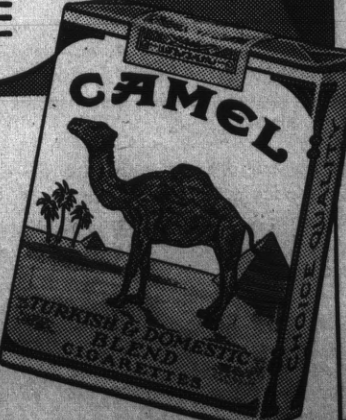

"DODO" for the new flying recruit
"KITE" for airplane
"HIT THE SILK" for taking to parachute
"CAMEL" for their favorite cigarette

Naval Reserve V-1, V-8 Program Brings Eighty to State

Approximately 80 San Francisco State undergraduates have signed up for the Naval Reserve V-1 and V-7 programs and are taking at present or have completed the required mathematics and physics courses, it was announced by the registrar's office today.

These programs allow college students to enlist in the reserve as apprentice seaman and become placed on an inactive status for a period of time depending upon their year at school and upon their ability to pass a comprehensive Navy examination.

Freshmen and sophomores may enlist in the V-1 class. During their sophomore year the V-1's will take an examination, and those who pass will be transferred into the V-7 program and remain in school until graduation. Those failing the test are subject to call at the completion of their second year in college.

The V-7 program is for upper-classmen who upon graduation will be sent to an officer's training school to earn commissions as officers.

AVIATION OPEN

It is possible for either V-1 or V-7 students to transfer to the Navy's V-5 class, which is the naval aviation program, at any time provided they can pass the necessary tests.

San Francisco State men students who have not already looked into the Navy's programs are requested to do so immediately in order to insure a continuation of their studies.

Dan Farmer is in charge of the program at State, and he will be more than glad to see any student who desires further information in regard to enlisting, college requirements, and other details.

Beta Pi Sigma Opens With Novel Feature

Holding its first regular meeting next Tuesday, Beta Pi Sigma, announces a surprise feature for those attending the meeting. In line with its last semester series which included such topics as "Earthquakes," "Hurricane," "Counterfeit," "Venereal Disease," and "Birth Control," next week's meeting will be of vital interest to every student.

Beta Pi Sigma, State Science club, invites all students to attend its meetings, which are held each Tuesday noon in Room 207, Anderson Hall. Officers for the fall term include Paul Scholten, president; Claudia McGuire, vice-president; Thais Scheering, secretary; Corrine Julian, treasurer, while Dr. Alyce Bergman is faculty sponsor.

dom seen on any stage. His is truly one of the greatest performances ever seen in the American theater. Mady Christians as his American-born wife was so steadily emotional and high-strung it became irritating after a time. Frederick Tozere, as the blackmailer, was so complete a heel, you yearned to kill him yourself. Scott Colton does well as Miss Christians' brother, and Eleanor Wilson is charming as the American-born Countess de Brancovis, his lady love. The presence of this triangle, however, is another contributing factor which dulls the edge of the real drama. Eda Heinemann is delightful as the housekeeper.

Edward Ryan Jr., Anne Blythe and Eric Roberts as the children, show remarkable stage presence. They present a poignant picture of three children used to the privations of a war torn world suddenly given the luxury and peace of a pre-war American home.

The living room setting was superbly designed by Jo Mielziner. The beauty of this play lies in the acting. Paul Lukas gives a performance that places him high on the list of great actors in the modern theater.—B. C.

Alpha Phi Gamma, Journalism Society, Selects Officers

Because the war has put a large dent in its membership, Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, elected a president last week and then gave him complete say as to who the other officers would be, according to John Thomas, the new president.

Paul Scholten agreed to accept the treasurer's berth. He also accepted the position of financial manager for the Chickens' Ball, the fraternity's annual variety show.

Virginia Howard was appointed secretary, and her first job was the drafting of letters to all the organization's prospective pledges.

The vice-president's chair was left vacant, according to Thomas, because if someone else were to take his place, it should be by a vote of all members.

A.W.S. Stages Rally In Little Theater; Free Refreshments

Under the capable leadership of President Dorothy Thronson, the A. W. S. starts another successful year Monday, October 12, at 12 noon, when an activity rally will be held in the Little Theater.

Clair McCormick, rally commissioner, is general chairman of the affair, and she will be assisted by the new cheer leaders, Pat Thomas and Margie de Andreis.

There is promise of good entertainment and fun for all who attend, and free refreshments will be served.

Only those women holding student body cards will be admitted. Don't miss the first big get-together of the A. W. S. by not having a student body card. Buy yours today and get into the swing of things.

State Instructor Broadcasts on KQW; Visitors Welcomed

San Francisco State continues to be well represented on the air waves, with Dr. Baxter M. Geeting of the Speech department broadcasting every Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings at 10:15. Dr. Geeting presents a broadcast and analysis of the news as he sees it.

Visitors to the broadcast are welcome, providing they notify Dr. Geeting before they visit the studio. Besides his broadcasting, Dr. Geeting conducts a radio class at State and expects to have several student programs.

Art Federation

Like most organizations around State, the Art Federation is facing its difficulties this term. Betty Schmidt, who was to be the president this term, is now attending San Jose State College. Likewise, Bill Higgins, elected vice-president, is not returning.

As the constitution does not provide any solution for such a situation, the Art Council is to decide on the method of appointing the officers for the Federation at its next meeting.

Camera Club New Addition To Campus Fun

Have you a box camera or a kodak? Or a Speed Graphic or a Roliflex? Well, even if you have not, you'll probably want to join State's new Camera club, for ownership of a camera is not required for admission—rather, simply an interest in taking better photographs is all that is necessary for membership.

Under the faculty sponsorship of Dr. Carlo Lastrucci of the sociology department, the organizational meeting of State's new Camera club will take place next Monday, October 12th, at noon in room 216. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Those who cannot attend the first meeting are requested to drop a note in Dr. Lastrucci's post box.

The purposes of the club, according to Dr. Lastrucci, are to offer a common meeting place where anyone who takes pictures may receive constructive criticism so that he may improve his technique, and to add to the knowledge of the prospective teacher.

Dr. Lastrucci emphasizes that this is not to be a club for "photomaniacs" or advanced amateurs alone (although there will be a definite place for them, too). Anyone may join, and everyone is invited to join. Remember, next Monday, October 12th, at noon, in room 216.

Alpha Chi Epsilon

Alpha Chi Epsilon, Education sorority, held its first board meeting Monday at the Frederic Burk school with Barbara Jensen presiding.

This organization promises an active semester, with a full calendar of activities planned.

New officers for the fall semester are: Barbara Jensen, president; Shirley Wentz, vice-president; Donna Anderson, recording secretary; Wanda Micheli, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Julian, assistant; Jean Evans, treasurer; Helen Peterson, A. W. S. representative; Marian Greene, historian; Clair McCormick, publicity; Miss Helen Thomas and Mrs. Lynette Messer, sponsors.

Gater Ex-Thespian Flies In Raid Over North France

Serving in the most advanced war front, Stater Victor Lewin was recently cited in dispatches as among the heroic bomber crew that has so far shot down 13 German Focke-Wulf 190's in raids over Northern France.

Lewin, a lieutenant, graduated in 1941 into the Air Corps. While at State he was active in dramatics and played the heroic lead in the term play, "The Two Orphans." He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity.

Placement Bureau Reports Swift Enrollment in Jobs

Information from the San Francisco State College Placement office reveals that there are many opportunities open to State graduates. A number of students in the 1942 graduating class have gone into teaching positions in the Japanese War Relocation camps. Positions as instructors in public and private schools have been filled by 176 of the 1942 graduates.

San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties have placed the greatest number of students. San Francisco State College graduates have also been placed in 33 other California counties.

The demand for teachers has been constant this term. Over 100 calls have come into the office during the past month. These calls varied from positions in nursery schools to principalships.

The placement office also has many calls for part-time work. The wages are good, and the work is after 3:30 p.m. Any person interested should call at the Placement office in room 114, College Hall.

Art Department Sends State Exhibit To Truckee Institute

State's Art department, on request, has sent an exhibit of students' work to Truckee, where it is being shown Monday through Wednesday of this week at the Teachers' Institute, it was announced today by Miss Susan Benet, chairman of the art department.

The exhibit will consist of 17 mounts of still life, landscape, war murals and figure composition done in various mediums. These mounts will be shown in the second floor, north hall of College Hall as soon as they are returned.

It was through the advice of Mr. Tom Griffin, a recent graduate of State, now teaching at Truckee, that the Institute requested our work.

Claire McCormack New Yell Leader

Given the power of appointment by a special vote of the Executive Board, President Kenny Young today announced the selection of Claire McCormack as head yell leader. Claire will be the first top female pep purveyor in the college's history. Assisting her will be Marge DeAndries and Pat Thomas. All three formerly were the yell leaders for Associated Women Students' affairs.

Profs Speak To Student Christians

"My Philosophy of Life" will be discussed by four members of State's faculty at an open meeting put on by the Student Christian Association, to be held in Annex B, Room 2, on Wednesday noon, October 14.

Professors Carlos Mundt, Ruth Thomson, Carlo Lastrucci and Dean Walter J. Homan have agreed to give a personal account of their most intimate beliefs and commitments. They have been urged to be perfectly frank and free in their expression, and the program is not designed to convert anyone to anything.

All members of the student body and faculty are invited to attend this meeting. To know what our professors really think about life and its meaning should be significant to us all.

Pledge Campaign Starts Monday For Phi Epsilon Mu

Commencing this Monday, Phi Epsilon Mu, campus physical education fraternity, will inaugurate its pledge campaign designed to swell its ranks of P. E. majors and minors, announced Norman Keller today.

With Alex Vladimiroff playing the part of host, the Phi Eps will meet this Sunday evening to discuss plans for their first outing to be held at Marsh Creek on Sunday, October 18.

Following an election held last week, the service group announces that these men will carry on the official duties of the organization this semester. Officers: George Lorbeer, president; Neil Harriman, vice-president; Emil Fanfelle and Ken Gomes, secretary and corresponding secretary and Hal Keller, treasurer.

Mrs. Trapani Heads Parent-Faculty Club

"There will be many new duties for members of the Parent-Faculty club in the coming months," stated Mrs. Ignatius Trapani, president, yesterday. "That is why we not only invite, but urge, all parents and faculty members to join this group."

The club is pledged to aid the college administration by supporting legislation favorable to education and to aid student welfare.

Meetings are held monthly. Speakers are invited from the college faculty, and a musical program is given by members of the music classes.

Extension Division Offers New Course In Floral Designs

"Learn to say it with flowers," Room 117, College Hall, is the place, 7 to 8:30 Thursday evenings the time. The event, a course in western floral arrangement, by Mrs. Josephine Righetti.

The class is sponsored by the Extension Division of the San Francisco State College and will be called Art E6.

The first meeting will be held on October 8, with a fee of $5. One unit of credit may be earned. The course will be open both to beginners and to advanced students.

Music Federation Outlines a Term Of Activities

Have you ever been down in the Music alley? If you haven't you probably have missed some of the most interesting students on the campus. Down in Music alley you will find the largest paid membership campus organization, the Music Federation.

Led by Dario Cassina, president, the Music Fed has the names of 300 campus students on its rolls. All of these belong to the student body and participate in all campus activities.

During the term the Fed gives concerts, dances and parties for its members, and everyone shares equally in the benefit derived from belonging. The other officers of this organization are: Leighton Edelman, vice-president; Janet Barney, secretary; and John Mortaratti, treasurer.

The Fed is run by an executive board with representatives from all of the different music activities. This term's representatives are Janet Yelland, Orchestra; Catherine Penn, Band; Fay Owen, A Cappella; Mary Jane Morrow, String Quartette; Ed Robinson, Men's Glee; Tina Arriani, Girls' Treble; Norma Abbot, Chorus; and Alice Dosti, Madrigals.

Fluoroscope Tests Scheduled For Friday

Clean-up Health and Fluoroscope examinations will be held October 17, starting at 8:30 in the morning. Anybody due to have these examinations must apply through the Registrar's office.

If any student fails to complete these examinations, he will be fined a dollar and if he refuses to pay the fine, admission to college will be denied until his record is clear. Don't forget to keep your appointment. It is of vital and paramount importance that you do.
